A HANDY

HEBREW CONCORDANCE;

HITHERTO CALLED

THE HEBRAIST'S VADE MECUM;

A FIRST ATTEMPT AT

A COMPLETE VERBAL INDEX

TO THE CONTENTS OF THE HEBREW AND CHALDEE SCRIPTURES.

ARRANGED ACCORDING TO GRAMMAR.

TO WHICH IS ADDED AN ENGLISH INDEX.

LONDON:
S. BAGSTER AND SONS (LIMITED), PATERNOSTER ROW

NOTE.

The two verses, Jos. xxi. 36 & 37, noted (in the foregoing page) as "not in V. D. H.," yet in the English translation, demand a remark or two. Their place in Van der Hooght's Hebrew Bible is marked by O, the sign of a supposed omission.

In English they stand thus:—v. 36. And out of the tribe of Reuben, Bezer with her suburbs, and Jahazah with her suburbs,

v. 37. Kedemoth with her suburbs, and Mephaath with her suburbs; four cities.

Remark 1st. Anyone that studies c. xxi. may see, from internal evidence, that these verses must have existed. For ver. 7 names twelve cities, and if these two verses are omitted, four out of the twelve cities are gone.

2dly. The substance of them is found in 1 Ch. vi. 78, 79.

As to the historic evidence for them, I may give it thus: –

a. The testimony of the ten polyglott Bibles.

No. 1. Card. Ximenes, Complutum (6 vol. fol.) 1522, gives these verses in Hebrew and in Jerome's Latin and in the LXX.*

„ 2.	Plantin	— Antwerp	(8 vol. fol.)	1569-72
„ 3.	Vatablus	— Heidelberg	(3 „ „)	1586
„ 4.	Wolder & Hutter	— Hamburg	(4 „ „)	1596
„ 5.	Le Jay	— Paris	(10 „ „)	1645
„ 6.	Walton	— London	(8 „ „)	1657
„ 7.	Reineccius	— Leipsig	(3 „ „)	1750
„ 8.	Bagster	— London	(1 „ 4°.)	1817
„ 9.	„	„	(1 „ fol.)	1831
„ 10.	Stier & Theile	— Bielefeld	(8vo)	1847-1855.

Nos. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 10 give the verses in Hebrew.

Nos. 8 and 9 have the mark O instead of the verses in the Hebrew.

b. The Bomberg (2nd Rabbinical) Bible, 3rd edition, Venice 1524-26, has not the verses.

c. The English, Septuagint, Vulgate, German, French, Italian, Spanish translations, (according to No. 9 above) have the verses; so has my Dutch (national) and the Portuguese. No. 7 says the Chaldee, Syriac, and Arabic, have the two verses.

According to De Rossi—they are found in what was printed at Soncino, in 1486 (Jos. —Kings); as also in the Soncino Bible, 1488 (the first Hebrew Bible printed); and in that published at Breschia, 1494; also in the Pesaro editions with commentary by Kimchi, 1511, and that with commentary by Abarb., 1511.

POSTSCRIPT.

SINCE setting up the foregoing work and stereotyping it, so far as the appellatives go, its contents have been a second time carefully compared with the Pasted Books, first for the Hebrew forms as they occur, and, secondly, for the occurrences of all those which are rare. This was done by Mr. JAS. SYKES, of 9, Museum-terrace, Oxford. The whole has also been compared with the "Englishman's Hebrew and Chaldee Concordance," by Mr. JAS. SYKES, or Mr. G. H. ROUSE, of Upper Clapton, or by myself. The result has been the following

READER:

This Index is but an attempt to provide a ready access to all the Hebrew and Chaldee forms of words which are found in the original Old Testament Scriptures:—together with their varieties in spelling and their occurrences.

The staff of Labourers who prepared and corrected the MS. for me has long since dispersed itself, each to his separate field of service. Otherwise they, clearly, would have been the best Editors.

In conducting it through the press, I have sought to be faithful to the copy which was in my hands—correcting, however, any obvious errata according to B. Davidson's Analytical Hebrew and Chaldee Lexicon, 1848, and S. P. Tregelles's Gesenius' Hebrew Lexicon, 1846 (S. Bagster and Sons, Paternoster Row). The chief responsibility of seeing that the letter-press agreed with the copy has rested upon Mr. W. Chalk, whose work, as corrector of the Press and verifier of the references, I cannot doubt that both Dr. Tregelles and Mr. B. Davidson will count to be well done.

As the Quadriglott Dictionary was left unfinished in the MS. it was abandoned, and a mere English Vocabulary substituted in its place. This and the pronunciation of the Hebrew word at the head of each article, were put in only for the English reader's sake.

It may be that the attention of both Mr. Chalk and myself has been too much absorbed in the attempt to secure accuracy in the Hebrew words and in the references which show where they occur. And yet, if we have attained to that, we shall be satisfied. The human imperfection of our labour must appear somewhere, and we shall be satisfied that it should be found to exist in those things which in such an attempt as this must be looked at as secondary.

May God, who has deigned to bring it to a close, bless this work by His Spirit, for His Son's sake, to His own people.

The above is a specimen of a Hebrew and Chaldee Concordance in my possession and ready for press.

It was carefully prepared by my friend Mr. BENJAMIN DAVIDSON, who did not neglect to give it the full benefit of the work now published. He is also the author and editor of "The Analytical Hebrew and Chaldee Lexicon"—S. Bagster and Sons, Paternoster Row, London.

VARIATIONS OF CHAPTERS AND VERSES

IN THE

HEBREW AND ENGLISH BIBLES.

 In the following Table, the Hebrew notation of chapters and verses (as found in Van der Hooght's Bible) is given first ; the English notation—when varying from it—follows after the mark =. An asterisk (*) points out the few places in which a verse differs only in part in the Hebrew and English texts.

The mark ⁑ means that all the verses intermediate to that above and that below it, have a corresponding variation.

ENGLISH INDEX.

, The words of the Authorised Version are used, and under these will be found the occurrences of each Hebrew word answering to the heading. Each reference is given in three particulars, as '125 d 15,' where 125 is the page; d, the column of the page (in the order in which the columns are read, e d c b a); 15, the number of the Hebrew line in that column (every Hebrew line and the lines printed thus '—— II.' are to be counted). A * in a heading, or with a reference, indicates a peculiarity of translation. References braced together point out that two or more Hebrew words are combined in the translation. P.N. refers to the pages of Proper Names.
